NEWS AND UPDATES

Open this release (keygen/patch) and click the little button with three lines (at top-left corner of the window) to display the main menu:

Among the options shown here, the two most important are:

- News & Announcements: This option will check if there is any important announcement that I want to share with the community. Generally, these announcements are also posted on the website.
- Check for Updates: This option will check if an update of this release is available. If there is one, it will show information about the release and will give you the chance to download it directly. Normally any new version of this release will be posted on the website, with the exception of some cases in which I cannot publicly post such releases for "legal" reasons. In those cases, using this option is the only way to get a new version.

Note: These options require Internet access and will only connect to the net when selected.

ANTIVIRUS AND FALSE POSITIVES

Some antivirus can detect this release as a threat and try to remove it. The reason for this is because my releases are packed/protected in order to reduce its size and avoid alterations to the code. This protection can be erroneously identified as a threat, it is what is commonly known as a FALSE POSITIVE. Just ignore it, it is safe to use.

IMPORTANT: there will be no risk when using my releases as long as you have downloaded it from the links posted on my site or from the "Check for Updates" option. If you have downloaded this release from another site, I CANNOT GUARANTEE ITS INTEGRITY. In such case, I will not take responsibility for eventual problems that arise when using it. Be careful!

As a precaution, always check the release hash.
